Art Unit: 1775

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 41-67,80-81 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Veerasamy et al (6,447,891).

Veerasamy et al discloses the claimed carbon coating on an optical coating having the claimed components and thickness (column 5, line 50-56). The amorphous structure in claims 41-67 is considered inherent to how the silicon nitride layer is made.

Applicant's arguments filed 10/10/06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Even though different metal oxides are explicitly disclosed the metal oxides are not limited to the examples and thus the rejection stands.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 41-67,80-81 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Veerasamy (6,447,891) in view of Iida et al (5,085,926) or Zmelty et al (5,902,115)

Veerasamy discloses the known use of carbon coatings within the claimed thickness used on optical coatings. Regarding the amorphous structure of the silicon nitride layer in claims 41-54, the amorphous structure is considered inherent to how the silicon nitride layer is made. Veerasamy discloses metal oxides generally and explicitly discloses those not claimed.

Iida et al or Zmelty et al discloses that these metal oxides are functionally equivalent to those claimed.

Thus it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide Veerasamy with the claimed metal oxides as these are known in the art to be functionally equivalent as shown by Iida et al or Zmelty et al.

5. Claims 68-79,83 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Stachowiak (6,830,817 or 6,589,658 or 6,586,102) in view of Iida et al (5,085,926) or Zmelty et al (5,962,115)

Stachowiak discloses the claimed optical coating within the claimed thickness on glass. The amorphous structure in claim 74 is considered inherent to how the silicon nitride layer is made. Stachowiak discloses silicon nitride and oxynitride and not the claimed metal nitrides or oxynitrides.

Iida et al or Zmelty et al discloses that these metal nitrides and oxynitrides are functionally equivalent to silicon.

Thus it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide Stackowiak with the claimed metal nitrides and oxynitrides as these are known in the art to be functionally equivalent as shown by Iida et al or Zmelty et al.

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
